ACTION IS PLANNED ON STRAY DOGS

PORTERVILLE, Feb. 9 — With farmers reporting livestock and poultry losses from roving bands of dogs, and with Porterville city people asking for control of dogs within the city, it appears that a move has started to bring the dog situation under control.

The county of Tulare is putting on three additional rabies control officers, making a total of six, and a concerted drive in the southeastern Tulare county area is planned without delay, both inside and outside the city of Porterville.

The drive will be aimed at picking up unlicensed dogs as a rabies control measure.

Porterville City Manager Bill Coburn is working with the county on the dog problem, however, Porterville city councilmen Tuesday night voted to take no city action now, but rather to cooperate with the county in cleaning up unlicensed dogs.

BOARD ADOPTS LIVESTOCK RULES; FAIR JUDGES NAMED; EXHIBIT SPACE SELLS FAST

PORTERVILLE, Feb. 9 — A new rule for livestock exhibitors at the Porterville Centennial fair, May 18, 19, and 20; the naming of livestock judges; plans for the junior livestock auction; and general organization of the fair have been pinned down by fair directors and members of special committees during a series of meetings over the past two weeks.

New rule is this: It is mandatory that an animal or exhibit be under the exhibitor's care and management for at least 60 days prior to opening of the fair to be eligible for entry; directors also definitely decided that no exhibitors will be allowed on the grounds during the nights of the fair after 11 p.m., and that center and end doors of the main exhibit building will be closed and locked each night.

Two judges have been secured for the fair: Roy Parker, Kern county farm advisor, who will judge beef cattle, and Robert Selkirk, head of the dairy de-

The Women — Again

PORTERVILLE, Feb. 9 — The women of Porterville are at it again!

A group from the Women's Protective association known as the Bustle Hoopsters, has challenged the Centennial Bearded Wonders to a basketball game at the high school gym the evening of February 18, at 8 o'clock.

The Bearded Wonders have accepted, stating that they will not ease up just because they will be playing a women's team, but on the contrary, will stomp the women right into the floor.

GROUND WAS broken Monday afternoon for the third unit of the Good Shepherd Lutheran Home of the West at Terra Bella, with the Rev. George Steinbeck, of the Zion Lutheran church officiating. The new, $171,000 unit will provide facilities for 36 more children at the home, in addition to the 77 mentally retarded now being cared for; previous construction costs have all been paid. Turning shovels of dirt during the ceremony were: Fred Gerdes, board member, and chairman of the building committee; Walter Schultz, board and building committee member; Emmett Engstrom, superintendent; Mamie Christensen, matron; and Gail Potter and Alice Mosquito, patients at the home.

OLIVE GRADING PLANT SET

PORTERVILLE, Feb. 9 — Plans to construct a new building to house equipment for grading of olives was announced this week by the Independent Olive Growers through Ed. Olson, manager.

The new plant is expected to be in operation by next olive season; fruit will be graded for members of the association, then sent on to canners, or, it is stated, arrangement may be made for the association to also act as contractor for canning of growers' fruit.

Location of the new plant is on a 10-acre parcel in the Zante district, on the Santa Fe railroad, next to the new Euclid Citrus association packing house.

The firm of J. D. Frost, realtor, represented the Independent Olive Growers in the land purchase transaction. Sellers of the land were Mr. and Mrs. A. B. O'Neal, who were represented by Paul Hosfeldt, realtor.

NO MORE DOUBLE TALK

While various public agencies have passed the buck faster than the professionals handle a basketball, dogs in the southeastern part of the county have been living it up in constantly increasing numbers, until, at the moment, the dog situation is completely out of hand in both the city of Porterville and the surrounding agricultural area.

In the city, dogs roam at will, creating a public nuisance; outside the city packs of dogs are running and killing livestock, and the buck is still being passed, although there does appear to be some hope of action.

Board of supervisors, and the Porterville City council, can both accept some of the blame for the situation, however, greatest buck passer has been the Tulare County Health department, whose job it is to pick up unlicensed dogs as a rabies control measure. In the past few months there have been two cases of dog bites in Porterville and the Health Department's rabies control officer located neither dog.

And anyone with two eyes in their head can see great numbers of unlicensed dogs in about any direction they care to look, both inside and outside the city.

If the County Health department had done its rabies control job by getting rid of unlicensed dogs, instead of spending its time looking for alibis, the dog situation would not be nearly as bad, in fact it might not be serious at all.

And the city of Porterville should either enforce its leash law, or get it off the books.

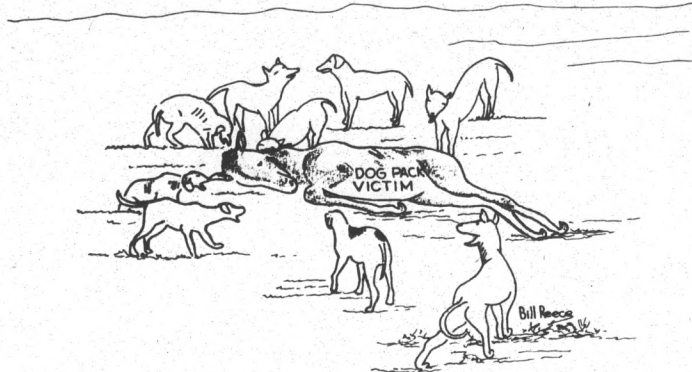

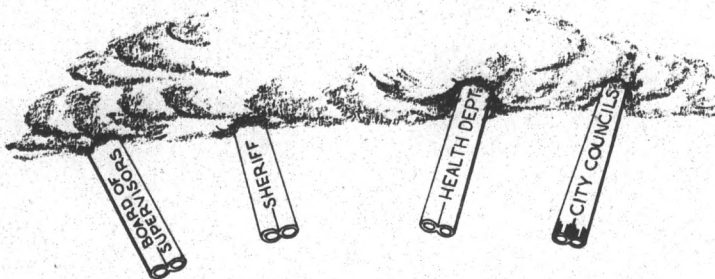

Of course, the silliest instructions of all silly instructions has again come from the County Health department: "If anyone finding a stray dog will tie it up or confine it . . . a rabies control officer will come by and pick it up."

Once more we state that it is the job of the rabies control officer to pick up unlicensed dogs. It is not the job of the public, or the job of individuals to become self-appointed dog catchers.

We're sick and tired of being told that we are supposed to tangle with stray dogs, then hold them until the rabies control officer arrives.

But right now the problem is to get something done about the situation, and pronto. Instead of the various public agencies standing on their rights, issuing alibis, and passing the buck, they better all get together and start pulling the trigger.

PULL THE TRIGGER!

We Only Heard

By BILL RODGERS

AS PORTERVILLE'S Centennial year took off officially with Horse and Buggy day, and the annual chamber of commerce banquet Saturday, there are several aspects that bear comment.

FIRST THERE is the matter of publicity for Porterville, which has been tremendous. In fact the festivities to date have had story and photo coverage in a number of newspapers; topflight radio news commentators have talked about the Porterville Centennial on national networks; there has been complete TV picture coverage of several of the Centennial events. And the year is only beginning.

BUT PERHAPS the greatest thing about the entire Centennial idea so far has been the excellent response from organizations and individuals, not only of Porterville, but of the entire southeastern Tulare county area.

THIS RESPONSE is being reflected in a list of special events throughout the Centennial year that continues to grow every day. It is reflected as bearded wonders and Centennial-gowned ladies meet and exchange smiles.

ing pleasantries, even though they do not know each other; it is reflected in the pageant atmosphere that has taken hold of the Porterville community.

AND THE way folks are digging into old trunks is tremendous. Early-day pictures and items of historical interest are popping out all over; Centennial displays in store windows are stopping traffic like no modern merchandise display ever did. And with it all the young people of the community, as well as their fathers and mothers, are finding a new interest in history of the community. All of this is good for everyone concerned.

DURING THE year there will be more fun, also events of a more serious nature — for instance a Centennial church day; a tribute to Royal Porter Putnam, Porterville's founder; authentic fashion show with old clothing; maybe — and at this point the maybe is rather large — a historical pageant.

THE PORTERVILLE community is off to a fine Centennial start. We're going to predict that this year — the year of 1961 — is going to be the doggondest year that Porterville has ever seen.

MINING NEWS — Parties arriving from White River and vicinity represent the miners as doing well, both in quartz operation and placer. Mr. Sexton is at present making about fifty dollars a day with a small quartz mill run by water power.

A GOOD MOVE — A petition is being circulated asking the passage of an act by the legislature appropriating the fines that may be collected in this county for the next five years for the establishing of a public library for the use and benefit of the citizens of the county.

THE CENSUS RETURNS — The recent census returns for 1860 shows a population of only 4,641 in Tulare county, while the returns for 1852 showed a population of 8,000. The returns of 1852 were not the result of careful investigation, but were mere guess work.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT:

Dizzy Spins

Q. How do ballet dancers and ice skaters spin around without getting dizzy?

A. Rotation dizziness is due to the displacement or rocking of fluid within the organ of balance, a structure located within the inner ear. Ballet dancers execute turns by reducing the time of fluid displacement to a minimum. They do this by whipping the head around in a start-stop fashion. They call it "spotting." Skaters spin much too fast to "spot" and apparently develop the ability to suppress or disregard disturbances set up within the balance organ. Doctors have studied the reaction of dancers and skaters to spinning in investigating certain diseases of the middle ear which cause dizziness.

Quality is our only policy—and this is why so many people believe their best policy is to bring their prescriptions to us.

News Of The SPRINGVILLE COMMUNITY

By WINNIE GAGE

A shower was held recently in the Memorial building for newly weds, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Talbot, with Mrs. Ray Corzine as hostess. They received many lovely and useful gifts.

Maurice is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Courtney Talbot. His wife is the former Diane Anderson of Porterville. They were married December 31 in the Rose Chapel of the Methodist Church in Porterville by Rev. Ford.

They are making their home in Porterville where both are finishing school.

Springville Market, a new store in Springville, was opened for business on February 2nd by the new owners, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry O'Connor. It is in the same building which formerly was the Village Market.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Connor with their four children live on Balch Park road and have run a chicken ranch for several years.

Another new business in town is "Thora's Treasure & Trash Second Hand Store" in the Springville Hotel building on Main Street and will be owned and operated by Mrs. Thora Calaway of Camp Nelson, who has had several years of experience in the furniture business.

The opening date will be February 13th, and store hours will be 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnson and family of Delano were Sunday guests of his mother, Mrs. Ann Cox.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wilson entertained guests in their country home Friday evening with a potluck dinner, honoring Mr. and Mrs. Paul Moore and Mrs. Sylvia Smith, who are leaving soon on a trip to the Orient. Mrs. Smith's son, Wallace, is teaching school in Japan and has planned a very interesting itinerary for them while they are visiting him.

Other guests present were Dr. and Mrs. J. D. Blackman, Mrs. Berneice Gurley, Mrs. Myron To-

YOUR LEGISLATOR AT WORK!

Senator
J. Howard Williams
32nd District
California State Legislature

Budget time is usually headache time for us Legislators. In that respect this session promises to be no different from its predecessors. As always, we will have to struggle with fixed charges, uncertain revenues, need to expand service to meet population growth, and demands for new or improved service.

A surprise to come, the total budget requested by the Governor was less than had been anticipated, slightly less than $2.6 billion. The increase over the figure for the current year is about 4.5 percent, the smallest rise in recent years of comparable budgets. Termed "narrowly in balance", the budget calls for no new taxes.

Our two legislative committees which have responsibility for the State's expenditure program, the Senate Finance and Assembly Ways and Means groups, are now busily reviewing the details of the budget, which once more will be the nation's largest. They will again be assisted by our Legislative Analyst and his staff, who will devise as many suggested economies as possible. The budget requests will be supported by Department of Finance spokesmen, as well as by those of the departments involved.

Once again the committees' efforts will be hampered by the fact that two-thirds of the budget total is fixed by either the State Constitution or statute, thus curtailing our legislative authority to control spending. Many of us believe that greater power over money matters should be restored to the Legislature so that a more equitable balance between income and expenses may be achieved. Some strongly urge that our entire Constitution be revised, shortened and clarified to make this balancing possible.

Once again, education in all its State-supported forms will take the largest share of the proposed budget, 41.5 percent. Highways, vehicle safety and regulation come second, at 20.9 percent. Third come social welfare and health, at 12.3 percent. Mental hygiene and corrections will absorb 8.5 percent. Conservation and natural resources, 6.4 percent. Bringing up the rear are general and fiscal administration, 1.7 percent, and all other functions, 8.7.

One thing is sure, and that is that the final budget situation is not limited by our action on these requests in the formal fiscal document. Many other measures affecting the amounts we taxpayers must pay for our California government are being introduced every day. All must be considered and evaluated in terms of their efforts on the state financial picture.

Several bills to cut taxes of various kinds are already before us. A few to increase certain taxes have been dropped in the hopper. The fate of such measures seems problematical just now, since they are caught between the opposing pressures of those who believe existing taxa-

Valley 4-H Clubs Regional Competition In Visalia March 4

VISALIA, Feb. 9 — Boys and girls from the 4-H clubs throughout the San Joaquin valley will demonstrate their knowledge and skills in agriculture, home economics, and other activities at Visalia on Saturday, March 4.

Competing in a nine-county Regional 4-H Field Day, the young club members will perform as individuals and as teams in both junior and senior classes, says Harry L. Miller, 4-H club specialist for the San Joaquin Valley region. Around 3,000 persons are expected, including competitors, parents, and friends of 4-H.

Coordinating arrangements for the regional event is Miss Betty Warmuth, Tulare county 4-H home advisor, while the host committee is being headed by Lyman Treaster, Tulare County 4-H leader. Encouraging and aiding the field day program are officials of the Bank of America: H. C. Elder of Fresno, A. J. Petersen of Visalia, and James C. Hermanson of San Francisco.

Ninety-five per cent of the vehicles involved in fatal accidents in the United States during 1959 were apparently in good mechanical condition.

tion is too high, and those who want additional service.

Many proposals for more liberal welfare grants, broadened medical care programs, and increased educational allocations will be lined up against other demands for revenues from the general fund. Bills which would increase worker benefits in all categories will also present their problems as to finance.

It now looks as though it will be several months before the committee of either house completes its review of the budget and reports it to the floor for action. In the meantime, members of both will undoubtedly put in long hours of painstaking investigation to help in developing the most practical and economical budget possible under existing uncertain circumstances.

PLEASANT VIEW, Feb. 9 — Pleasant View 4-H club held its regular meeting with President Dennis Dunbar presiding. Eddy Taggard led the flag salute, the group sang songs led by Carol Sickles and Richard Overholt.

Timmy Callison reported on a recent club tour.

Robert Santry reported on Sectional field day held at the Porterville high school. A Demonstration was also given by Robert and Greg Dunbar at the field day.

Project reports were given by June Oliver on sewing; Darlene Layman on cooking; and Johnny Hudson on his lambs.

Special attraction for the evening was a demonstration given by Susan Owen, from the Ducor 4-H club. Her demonstration on Sewing was the same that she presented at the Sectional Field

BASEBALL WAS THE OLD GAME, BUT THERE WERE OTHERS

Porterville's Centennial Celebration has set us to thinking about the good old days. We are wondering what the boys used to do, some 100 years ago, for recreation.

We know that this was a rough country, and it took rough men to break it. So we think that these men probably played rough. Baseball is about the only great American sport that was being played at that time. We have seen pictures of old local teams with crossed bats and determined profiles as they step forward for a rugged nine innings.

Basketball was just a shady peach basket in Dr. Naismith's head at that time and rugby had not yet evolved into our American game of football. So, when you couldn't get 18 men together for a game of baseball you were sort of at loose ends.

When the boys used to get together they had to improvise much of their fun. They had little games like Drag the Sheriff, Shoot the Saloon, Drink the Redeye, Rustle the Cattle, Spook the Buggy Horse, Fight with the Fist, just to name a few. The good thing about these games was that any number of men could play them, and the rules were either nonexistent or so obscure that no one bothered to follow them anyway.

Time has erased most of those old games. Drag the Sheriff has been replaced with Shoot the Sheriff in many locales, while Shoot the Saloon has disappeared completely. Drink the Redeye is the only old-time sport that has really flourished, and it has rallied to the point that it now rivals baseball. Cattle rustling has disappeared, except for isolated incidents. Fist Fighting is now frowned upon in our polite society, but is still indulged in at some Redeye Drinking meets.

So, our brief review of local sport tells us that time and the inroads of civilization has done much to do away with or modify the old-time games. Today our improvised fun has changed greatly. When the boys gather they play games such as Outrun the Highway Patrolman, Rob the Gas Station, Chug-Alug the Beer, Steal the Hubcaps, and Three-on-One Gang Fights. We have come a long way since 1861.

Here's a trick that was told to us by an old gentleman with a twinkle in his faded blue eyes: Cut the hair of a horse's tail into very short lengths and spread them around the floor just before a dance. It seems that the floor length dresses of the ladies act as a sort of suction and the crawling horse hair will cause considerable discomfort before the evening is over. Ah, the good old days.

Porterville looks like the home of the Hollywood extras with all the bearded folk running loose. In fact the various articles of clothing worn Saturday and Saturday night brought out more "hams" than the State of Virginia raises in a year. We suspect the time will come when either Hollywood will draft us all or a group of traveling psychologists will descend to see what happened.

Apart from getting their beards tangled in the rose bushes we don't expect much trouble for the men gardeners but the centennial women will have to watch those long dresses. Anytime they're close enough to cultivate the smaller plants the nine yards of cloth will hide the whole row. How do you suppose grandma did it anyway?

Over here on "E" Street we're busy unpacking all the early spring items which are arriving daily. Just appearing are petunias in many colors, perennial phlox, gerberas, dahlia tubers, and tuberous begonia bulbs. Any of these would do much to brighten your garden or add color to the patio.

For the vegetable minded, the tomato plants, onion sets, seed-potatoes, or wide variety of vegetable seeds will do much to renew your garden. These will do best if planted soon in soil well mulched with steer fertilizer. These things can be found seven days a week, along with garden hints and unusual beards, on "E" Street just North of Olive.

FOREIGN CLOTHES ARE MODELED AT 4-H MEETING

SUCCESS VALLEY—Feb. 9—At the recent Success Valley 4-H club meeting Pam Stout and Julie Hammer performed a Hawaiian dance, and costumes from foreign lands were modeled by: Judy Larson, a street robe worn by Chinese women; Janet Farrow, a Moslem costume from Casa Blanca, Africa; Beverly Weisenberger, a sari from India; and Julie Hammer, a gown from Tahiti.

Mrs. Harold Weisenberger told the group of the different costumes. She said that the way we dress tells a lot about the customs of the country. The collection was loaned from the collection of Mrs. Herman Matzke.

The meeting was opened by the president, John Weisenberger; Judy Larson led the flag salute and 4-H pledge. Julie Hammer, song leader, led 4-H singing.

Wes Weisenberger reported on the junior leader and Leader meeting held in Exeter. Janet Farrow reported on the Christmas Caroling party. John Weisenberger reported on the project tour and educational tour of the Edison plant in Frazier valley.

Project reports were given by Philip Larson and Wes Weisenberger.

Community Service chairman, Beverly Weisenberger, showed pictures in the National 4-H magazine depicting projects in other areas.

Present were Pam Stout, Joanne, Sandra and Greg Brown, Janet Farrow, Judy and Philip Larson, Ernie Monroe, Julie, Debbie, and Cliff Hammer, Denna Rameriz, Beverly, John, Wes, and Dan Weisenberger.

Adults and leaders present were Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur J. Larson, Harry Monroe, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Brown, Mr. E. Farrow, Mrs. Alvin Rameriz, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Hammer, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Weisenberger.

City officials have the necessary information regarding the establishing of a city dog control program, however, at present the city is included in the county's rabies control area.

Public officials agree that the dog problem does not begin or end at city lines and that a dog control program must cover the entire area inside and outside the city to be effective.

Stray dogs are defined by the Tulare County Health department as those running at large without the county's official vaccination tag.

Health department officials state that "Ranchers in Tulare county . . . bothered by dogs attacking their livestock or poultry . . . has the law in his hands permitting him to shoot such dogs, and he has the assistance of the Sheriff's department."

That was Mother's favorite advice, not only to her children, but to other people in a hurry.

Today, there is a real need for us to hold our horses, to slow down and take inventory of ourselves. We've been going so fast so long we seem to have forgotten how to keep still. We have "jazzed up" modern living and developed a mania for movement and speed. We want to dart off somewhere faster than the speed

FIELD DAY AND PUREBRED GILT SALE AT FARM YARD IN VISALIA, SATURDAY

VISALIA, Feb. 9 — Three valley hog promotion organizations announced plans this week for a special Field Day and Purebred gilt sale to be held at the Visalia sales yards of the California Farm Bureau Marketing association on Saturday, February 18, beginning at 8 a.m.

The schedule of events includes feed trial reports, slide lectures on automated hog operations and a guided tour of some of the valley's most up-to-date hog producing ranches.

Professor Jesse Bell, of Fresno State college, announced that the Purebred sale would be similar to several held elsewhere in the state recently by the California Pork Producers association. In addition to the California Pork Producers, the additional sponsoring organization are the Tulare County Farm Bureau Swine of sound, makes little difference where, and there's really no reason for going.

Not long ago, if a traveler missed his stagecoach he didn't worry. He just went to the hotel and relaxed. There'd be another stage along in three days. Today, if you miss one section of a revolving door and lose one-twentieth of a minute, you get panicky and start hollering for tranquilizer pills!

Amid the rush and roar of motors, rockets, and space missiles, it might be well for us to heed God's advice, "Be still, and know that I am God." We need to know God. We need His power to strengthen us, His Spirit to uplift our tired spirits, His presence to console us, His grace to bring peace and joy.

Hold your horses!

You feel tired and irritable? No wonder! Each 24 hours, your heart beats 103,690 times. Your blood travels 168,000,000 miles. You breathe 23,040 times. And, if you're fairly intelligent, you exercise 7,000,000 brain cells!

It's time to slow down, friend. Get off the mad merry-go-round. Buy yourself a Bible. Let its message of abundant life, salvation, peace with God, and heavenly reward thrill your soul. Now attend church regularly.

Take time to live like a Christian.

Parathion Dosage Increased For Mealybug Control

Serving on the committee planning the field day are: Glenn Taylor, Manager, Hog Department, C.F.B.M.A.; David Swall, Tulare; Wilbur Moech, Terra Bella; Bill Silveira, Tulare; Bob Miller, Tulare County Farm advisor; Melvin Liebau, Dinuba; and Fischer and Professor Bell.

Take the controls for a hay-field demonstration!

Drive the OWATONNA "80" King of the Self Propelled WINDROWERS!

HAY GROWERS AGREE—This Owatonna Model 80 belongs in a class by itself. There are a hundred good reasons for this superiority—but here are a few that you can spot on your very first demonstration drive:

1. DRIVER CONVENIENCE—Step up to the "control tower" of the Owatonna 80 and you're ready for the easiest, handiest windrowing you've ever experienced. Visibility is perfect. Every control is spotted for easy, natural operation and the hydraulic, foam-cushioned seat takes you through a day's work in easy-chair comfort.
2. PLANETARY DRIVE—Each set of dual drive wheels on the Owatonna 80 has independent planetary drive. You can pivot through a full circle in the width of the windrower—get in and out of corners no other machine could enter.
3. OPTIONAL HAY CONDITIONER—The Model 80 conditions as it windrows when the 101 hay conditioner is attached. You get the fastest, cleanest and easiest hay harvest you ever knew . . . more hay, up to 23.4% . . . more nutritious hay, an increase of up to 5% at milk check level.
4. BIG CUTTING CAPACITY—Greater than two conventional mowers.
5. PLATFORM FLOTATION—The Owatonna's platform is double-spring counterbalanced . . . floats to allow an even cut in rough, uneven fields.

6. GEAR BOX SICKLE DRIVE—Direct power through a gear box gives the Owatonna 80 the smoothest running sickle on the market. Exclusive adjustable pitch guards, chrome sickle sections and ledger plates do a clean cutting job in the toughest, gummiest hay.
7. RESERVE POWER—A big 37 h.p. engine powers you through the toughest crops.
8. DUAL DRIVE WHEELS—Soft ground, rough ground—they're both like smooth pavement to the Owatonna 80. Big, broad dual tires give you flotation and traction second-to-none.
9. CURING TUNNEL WINDROWS—Owatonna's patented platform angle takes the crop just right to lay a heads-up, crisscross windrow with a natural "curing tunnel" that allows air to circulate under and through.
10. TOUGHEST WINDROWER BUILT—A machine breakdown at a critical season can cost you plenty. That's why it will pay you to take an extra-close look at the heavy axles, machined shafts, over-size bearings and oil-bath drive chains of the Owatonna 80. This windrower is built to last.

Mrs. John Guthrie has again accepted the board's invitation to head the fair's home economics department.

As of the first of this week, Lee Martin, exhibits supervisor, reports that 34 exhibit spaces are actually contracted for and that a number of other exhibit contracts are pending. He says that exhibit space sale this year is ahead of last year at this time.

Ribbon awards will be made in several categories for commercial exhibits that carry the best Centennial theme, with judging to be based on theme, originality, costume of booth attendants, and neatness. A committee composed of Bob Bennett, Merv Brown and Richard Owen is working on this new fair category.

Also being discussed in recreation of the historic Mountain Lion saloon, to sell Sarsaparilla and to offer special entertainment. A wide variety of entertainment for the exhibit areas is also under consideration.

New competitive livestock classes have been approved by the board: Group of four steers from one 4-H club; group of three fat hogs from one 4-H club; group of five fat lambs from one 4-H club, and the same classes for Future Farmer chapters existing at the fair.

Bob Board, who is in charge of fair concessions, is working with representatives of the Tulare County Health department concerning the necessary screening of food concession booths.
